GEN. TAYLOR'S POSITION.

Now that the nomination of Gen. Taylor for the Presidency by the People irrespective of parties, the only nomination yet accepted by the old Hero, has been confirmed by the National Convention assembled at Philadelphia, and there is a consequent certainty that he will not only be run but under the most cheering prospects of success, it becomes our pleasing duty to revert to the position which he has all along maintained in relation to the Presidency, and see if there is anything in it which, rightfully considered, can or ought to deter any American good and true, Whig or Democrat from yielding him an honest and cordial support.

When Gen. Taylor at Palo Alto and Resaca with his sword and pen carved out a name and character which will adorn his country's history with as enduring a lustre as any other since the days of Washington, and the people long tired of the rule of mere partisans, found dency.
